

More Than A Play

Half-Day Professional Development in Drama and Equity for Junior/Intermediate Teachers

Come learn how to use nine short scripts created by top Canadian playwrights to explore equity and social justice issues while promoting literacy and critical thinking among junior intermediate students.

This professional development is ideal for Junior/ Intermediate and occasional teachers who want to increase student engagement by incorporating drama strategies, and social justice learning into their classroom program.

Date: Tuesday, November 8, 2011

Location/Time: Monora Park Pavilion (Lower level)
(633220 Hwy # 10, Orangeville)
1:00 – 3:30 p.m.
Light lunch will be available from 12:30

Registration: To register email your name and your school name to Linda Barton at linda.barton@ugdsb.on.ca before October 25, 2011. Confirmation will be by return email. If after registering, you find you are no longer able to attend, please inform Linda as soon as possible so that a member on the waiting list may be contacted.

Includes: .5 day afternoon release
A copy of the book More Than A Play
Lunch and refreshments

Application: This afternoon workshop is open to 18 Contract J/I teachers and Process 7 Occasional teachers.

Application deadline: October 25, 2011

For more information contact: Gundi Barbour

